EXPERIENCE

General Assembly, Student

June 2017 - September 2017

Web Development Intensive Bootcamp - full-time educational program where I learned the basics of web development and created full-stack applications using libraries and frameworks such as jQuery, Express, React and Ruby on Rails. Projects included:

- LinguaLect - a language learning site built on React on Rails with Ruby backend database integrating Oxford Dictionary's and Microsoft's Cognitive Services - Translation APIs
- KickIt - MERN stack soccer statistic site that utilized numerous APIs and the React Javascript library
- Project Rover - crowd-sourced travel/location review site utilizing Ruby on Rails and SQL database
- Jeopardy - front-end game using jQuery, HTML and CSS
- What's For Dinner - full-stack recipe sharing site relying on Node.js and Express Javascript frameworks

Jackson Lewis P.C., Legal Assistant

February 2012 – April 2017

Legal assistant in the New York office of a national law firm that represents employers in labor and employment disputes as well as in litigation. Duties included analyzing documents and fact patterns, developing support for defenses against an array of arguments and claims, and preparing pleadings for use in court.

Cristo Rey Jesuit High School, Teaching Assistant

2010 – 2011

Member of Jesuit Volunteer Corps - assigned to Cristo Rey Jesuit High School in inner-city Baltimore, a school focused on preparing at-risk youth for employment or college.
